Fire & Ice Winter Madness Festival

Without a doubt, volunteers are the lifeblood of our events. A tremendous amount of gratitude is owed to all those who volunteered their time at the Fire & Ice Winter Madness Festival this year.

Many thanks to Jon Valenta of General Pavingstones, LLC, Justin Pill of Cold Spring Lawn & Landscape, LLC, and Califon Lumber for supplying pallets for the bonfire. We also appreciate the High Bridge DPW for delivering a load of Christmas trees as well as the Lebanon Township community members who took the time to drop off their trees.

The Lebanon Township Volunteer Fire Department did all the heavy lifting, feeding the fire and ensuring the blaze lasted for hours. Gratitude is also owed to both Califon and High Bridge Fire Departments for providing emergency services coverage while our LT firefighters managed the bonfire, and to our Township EMTs who were on standby. Thanks to Gary Apgar, our Township Fire Official, for ensuring the safety of all attendees around the fire and the Lebanon Township DPW for loaning cones for our safety barrier.

Huge thanks to the Friends of Memorial Park Committee for keeping us warm with gallons upon gallons of hot chocolate! This group of people is dedicated to ensuring Memorial Park is a beautiful community space we can all enjoy no matter the season.

The Recreation Commission helped children and adults make more than 230 s'mores! Thank you to the committee for the sweet treat, sticky fingers and all the heart you put into these events!

Special thanks to our Township OEM Coordinator, Joe Maurizio, for helping secure the use of tower lights from the County. These lights helped illuminate the pond and parking area.

Speaking of the pond...a tremendous debt of gratitude is owed to the individuals who helped clear the snow so it could be used for ice-skating. It took many hours over the course of a few days but we were determined to get it done! Doug Springer, Justin Pill, Martina and Frank Villani - thank you for your time! There are others who chipped away at it throughout the week; I'm sorry we don't know who those folks are but your help is greatly appreciated!

And finally, thanks to the community for coming out on a cold winter night! The Recreation Commission and Friends of Memorial Park were excited to see the community come together, and to see the smiles on the kids and adults having fun. Traditions like this are part of what makes living in Lebanon Township so special; thanks for being part of the memories!

Big Changes Happening at the Museum

By: Gina Sampaio, Curator

The Lebanon Township Museum has been undergoing some big changes recently. You may have heard that a bathroom was being added on - it's more than just a bathroom though! There's also a kitchenette and a storage closet, but perhaps most impressive is the fact that this is the first time our historic building has had running water!

Those aren't the only changes, though. Curators Joan Lucas and Deanna Kinney, with more than fifty years of combined service to the Museum, are retiring. My Assistant Curator, Bill Honachefsky, and I have some big shoes to fill, but we feel up to the challenge!

Bill and I are both Hunterdon County natives with strong family and community ties to the area. Bill has been an appointed official serving on various nonprofit boards including Clinton Township Historic Preservation Commission, Union Forge Heritage Association, New Jersey State 350th Historic Commission, and many more. He helped found the first Board of Directors of Union Forge Heritage Association in 2002 and continues to serve as its Vice President. He has published hundreds of articles about, and lectures frequently on, New Jersey history. His latest book, High Bridge was published in 2016 by Arcadia Publishing. He has received three Distinguished Achievement awards from the Hunterdon County Cultural and Heritage Commission and Planning Board for his organizations' work.

I live here in Lebanon Township with my husband Andy and our five children. I have years of experience in event planning, community organizing, public speaking, marketing, and working with children in various capacities. I am the organizer of the Northern Hunterdon County Martin Luther King Day of Community Service. I am currently serving on the New Jersey Historical Commission's Civic Engagement Committee for commemorating the 100th Anniversary of Women's Suffrage in 2020. For the past three years I have worked as a tour guide, workshop leader and administrator at the Red Mill Museum.

I know Bill is just as excited as I am to discover all that the Lebanon Township Museum has to offer. We look forward to working with the public to bring dynamic programming to the community that will interest and engage people of all ages.

Please stop by the Museum on Saturday, March 16 from 11:00 am - 4:00 pm for our Hello/Goodbye party. We will be showing off the new addition, discussing our plans for the future and wishing all of our best to Joan and Deanna.

THE HELLO/GOODBYE PARTY

at the LEBANON TOWNSHIP MUSEUM

SATURDAY, MARCH 16 11AM-4PM

Stop by our open house to wish curators Joan Lucas and Deanna Kinney well as they retire with more than 50 years of combined service to the Museum. Meet the new curators, have a bowl of soup, snacks and refreshments and see our new restroom addition.

Two Stones

In the mid-1800s, James Hance and his family owned a farm along present day Anthony Road. It was located in what used to be called "Anthonytown".

In this beautifully written excerpt from The Ride to Pleasant Grove, author Sal Vuocolo recounts an imagined interaction between Hance and the Reverend Lambert Swackhammer. Swackhammer was the founder of the Mount Bethel Evangelical Lutheran Church (known as Old Swack Church), the ruins of which remain along Anthony road today. In a corner of the cemetery lie two fieldstones marking the burial place of Jinnett Thomson, the enslaved woman mentioned in the excerpt below.

Two Stones

*Hance slowed
as he recognized the horseman
as the Reverend Lambert Swackhammer.*

*Known throughout as a devout man of God
and foe of slavery,
Hance warmed at the sight of this kindred spirit.*

*The founding minister of Mt. Bethel Church he inspired its construction in 1844.
Built on the bend in Anthonytown Road
it was right on Hance's line.*

*Unique among country churches
it had a well patronized library.
Just east of the church was a log home built for Lambert and his Scottish wife, Janet MacNaughton.*

*A honey-throated tenor,
he stirred his congregation
with song and sermon.
But he failed to convince the New York Synod to pass a resolution denouncing slavery as "sin in the sight of God."*

*For the Synod
the slavery question was political, not religious.*

*Speaking to Hance
in the steady manner of a man
who understands his work,
Swackhammer reported that he had granted permission*

for the burial of an ex-slave woman behind the church.

*Formerly the property of Mark Thomson, Congressman
and ironmaster of Changewater furnace, she was the last member of the only ex-slave family to remain.*

Her grave was marked in the Biblical fashion*.

*Fieldstones were often used to mark the sites where enslaved people were buried.

- Do you have a fireplace? If yes, anytime is the perfect time to clean your fireplace and chimney.
- Can we get to your house? Is your house number visible next to your driveway? Is the driveway wide enough (12 feet) for our emergency vehicles? Please make sure we can respond to a call to your house, even when it is snowing or there is ice on the roads; clear ice and snow off your walkway and driveway; and, trim low tree and shrub branches away from your driveway so our vehicles don't hit them.

Firefighters and EMTs are Needed!

Internet Exchange Zone

The Township Committee has approved the establishment of an "Internet Exchange Zone." This zone will consist of two parking spaces located in the front of the Municipal Building parking lot, indicated with a sign and painted markings. This area will be under 24-hour video surveillance. Residents are encouraged to conduct their transactions during daylight hours. This parking area will be in place this spring.

Junior Police Academy Week

This summer, the Lebanon Township Police Department will be conducting the Junior Police Academy. Parents: look for more information coming from the school this spring.

Crime Prevention Tips

Please be aware of some common scams and potential crime situations:

- IRS and Arrest Warrant calls: Some residents have fallen victim to phone calls requesting money to satisfy outstanding warrants or IRS debts. Often, people are threatened with arrest if money is not sent. Law enforcement will not call you and tell you to send money or face arrest! If you receive such calls, do not give any personal information. Simply hang up the phone. If they persist, call police.
- Credit Card Theft: When using a credit/debit card be observant as to who is handling your card; i.e. gas station attendants, cashiers. Report any suspicious activity to management. Thieves are using "readers" at some of these locations as well as at ATM machines. Review your bank statements often to see that all of your charges are valid.
- Social Media and Travel/Vacations: Do not post your travel plans or vacation pictures on social media, until you return home. Consider stopping by headquarters to fill out a vacation/vacant house application to put your home on police check. Be sure to lock your doors, windows, vehicles, sheds, and other out buildings.

Environmental & Open Space Commission (EOSC)

A Busy Year for Your Environmental and Open Space Stewards

Water quality, clean streets, open space and strategic planning...oh my! These were the topics that were top of mind for the cherished volunteers that cared for our township environmental and open space interests in 2018. Check out these key accomplishments!

- A record year for the well testing program with more than 70 residents participating - the most in its 10+ year history. Put May 11th on your calendar so you're ready to pick up your test kit for this year. A heartfelt thanks to Kathy Koch for her management of this program.
- The spring litter cleanup continues to be a great success and thanks are owed to a long list of individuals, families and organizations that participated in 2018. More than 200 volunteers descended on 50+ miles of roadway to keep our streets clean. The care these volunteers show for their neighborhood benefits all residents and shows real community spirit. Don't forget to grab some friends and adopt a road this year! Check out the flyer on the next page. A special thanks to Maria Naccarato for continuing to ensure this program is a success.
- Open space is why many of us call Lebanon Township home and maintaining this character is no easy task. 2018 was a year of strategic planning with the update of two critical long-term planning documents: our own Township Open Space and Recreation Plan and the Hunterdon County Strategic Parks and Open Space Plan. EOOSC members were critical in driving the refresh of the first and ensuring our township's interests were reflected in the second.

It wasn't only about open space planning in 2018, though. With a monumental effort from our own Mayor Mike Schmidt, an additional 244 acres of rolling farm fields, forests and wetlands were also preserved. This property connects Point Mountain Reservation with Teetertown Preserve and was protected at little cost to the township. More open space means more maintenance and we're lucky enough to have volunteers who like to roll up their sleeves and get down to business. More than 15 community members turned out on a sunny Saturday morning in April to blaze a new trail on the recently-commissioned Red Mill Race Preserve.

After seeing what can be accomplished, you can't help but want to get involved too. Reach out to Adam Duckworth at ltenv@lebtwp.net to get started. We have a variety of projects that can fit a variety of needs and interests, all of which have a real and visible impact right here in our own township.

Many thanks to all those that supported our efforts in 2018, including Adam Mickley, Deborah Szmajda, Erik Henriksen, Gene Slowinski, Kathy Koch, Mara Tippet, Marc Laul, Maria Naccarato, The Collett family, Mike Chen, Mike Schmidt, Nancy Lawler, Peter Haugk, Sharon Hardy, Sharon Petzinger and Warren Newman.

Pay attention if you like beer, wine, or fruit – there's a new pest in town!

By: Sharon Petzinger

This new pest, the spotted lanternfly, has been confirmed in southern Warren and northern Mercer counties and is presumed to also be in Hunterdon. It is a beautiful bug with white polka-dots, but it can be deadly to a variety of plants it feeds on - from trees to vegetables to grapes to yes, even hops.

This bug is bigger than protecting the trees and the environment – it's about protecting our livelihood through our local growers – so we may continue to pick apples from a local orchard each fall, buy fruits and vegetables from local farm stands every summer, and enjoy beer and wine at local breweries and vineyards.

Spotted lanternflies hide in anything that's left outdoors and therefore can be easily transported without being noticed. Hunterdon County is under quarantine, which means any outdoor items moved outside this area should be checked for spotted lanternfly egg masses, adults and nymphs. This includes tents, backpacks, bicycles, motorcycles, storage sheds, outdoor furniture, propane tanks, firewood, lumber, grills, lawnmowers, yard decorations, kiddie pools, etc.

Please become familiar with what spotted lanternfly adults, nymphs and egg masses look like, and make it a habit to check anything you bring back from a quarantined area (esp. Pennsylvania) as well as moving something out of a quarantined area. If you see one, report it immediately to SLF-plantindustry@ag.nj.gov or call 1-833-223-2849 (BAD-BUG-0). More information can be found online at <https://www.state.nj.us/agriculture/divisions/pl/prog/spottedlanternfly.html>.

OUR Place Planet Responsibility

THE GREY TREE FROG

By: Doug Diehl

Our township has many forested areas. A common frog species (Hyla versicolor) has a habitat living in tree branches near vernal pools and on the forest floor. Although it is only two inches in length, the male frog emits a loud distinct high pitch trill during mid to late spring evenings to attract a mate. The species is named versicolor because it can change color quickly to match its surroundings. This common amphibian has sticky toe pads to allow it to climb high along tree branches. Both male and female will search and consume insects within the trees.

Upon mating, the female will travel to a vernal pool or another body of standing water such as a large puddle or even a swimming pool to lay the eggs. The tadpoles hatch in five days to develop into young frogs which will feed on small insect larva or worms in trees or on the forest floor.

During the winter, this frog will hibernate under forest floor leaves and has the ability to survive freezing due to glycerol produced in its body. Warmer temperatures stimulate the tree frog to return to the tree habitat and once again make itself heard with its loud trill from the trees. This spring, when walking in one of our township forested areas, listen for the grey tree frog call.

Solutions to Stormwater Pollution

Easy Things You Can Do Every Day To Protect Our Water

A Guide to Healthy Habits for Cleaner Water

Pollution on streets, parking lots and lawns is washed by rain into storm drains, then directly to our drinking water supplies and the ocean and lakes our children play in. Fertilizer, oil, pesticides, detergents, pet waste, grass clippings: You name it and it ends up in our water.

Stormwater pollution is one of New Jersey's greatest threats to clean and plentiful water, and that's why we're all doing something about it.

By sharing the responsibility and making small, easy changes in our daily lives, we can keep common pollutants out of stormwater. It all adds up to cleaner water, and it saves the high cost of cleaning up once it's dirty.

As part of New Jersey's initiative to keep our water clean and plentiful and to meet federal requirements, many municipalities and other public agencies including colleges and military bases must adopt ordinances or other rules prohibiting various activities that contribute to stormwater pollution. Breaking these rules can result in fines or other penalties.

As a resident, business, or other member of the New Jersey community, it is important to know these easy things you can do every day to protect our water.

Limit your use of fertilizers and pesticides

- Do a soil test to see if you need a fertilizer.
- Do not apply fertilizers if heavy rain is predicted.
- Look into alternatives for pesticides.
- Maintain a small lawn and keep the rest of your property or yard in a natural state with trees and other native vegetation that requires little or no fertilizer.
- If you use fertilizers and pesticides, follow the instructions on the label on how to correctly apply it.

Make sure you properly store or discard any unused portions.

Properly use and dispose of hazardous products

- Hazardous products include some household or commercial cleaning products, lawn and garden care products, motor oil, antifreeze, and paints.
- Do not pour any hazardous products down a storm drain because storm drains are usually connected to local waterbodies and the water is not treated.

- If you have hazardous products in your home or workplace, make sure you store or dispose of them properly. Read the label for guidance.
- Use natural or less toxic alternatives when possible.
- Recycle used motor oil.
- Contact your municipality, county or facility management office for the locations of hazardous-waste disposal facilities.

Keep pollution out of storm drains

- Municipalities and many other public agencies are required to mark certain storm drain inlets with messages reminding people that storm drains are connected to local waterbodies.
- Do not let sewage or other wastes flow into a stormwater system.

Clean up after your pet

- Many municipalities and public agencies must enact and enforce local pet-waste rules.
- An example is requiring pet owners or their keepers to pick up and properly dispose of pet waste dropped on public or other people’s property.
- Make sure you know your town’s or agency’s requirements and comply with them. It’s the law. And remember to:

- Use newspaper, bags or pooper-scoopers to pick up wastes.
- Dispose of the wrapped pet waste in the trash or un-wrapped in a toilet.
- Never discard pet waste in a storm drain.

Don’t litter

- Place litter in trash receptacles.
- Recycle. Recycle. Recycle.
- Participate in community cleanups.

Dispose of yard waste properly

- Keep leaves and grass out of storm drains.
- If your municipality or agency has yard waste collection rules, follow them.
- Use leaves and grass clippings as a resource for compost.
- Use a mulching mower that recycles grass clippings into the lawn.

Smoke Detector Recycling is Now Available

Please bring your old smoke detectors to the Hunterdon County Division of Health, Route 12 County Complex Building #1, 2nd Floor, 314 State Route 12, Flemington, NJ 08822, Monday through Friday from 8:30 am to 4:30 pm. If you have any questions, please call (908) 788-1351.

IONIZATION SMOKE DETECTORS - FACTS

Smoke Detectors are a common household item. One type, ionization smoke detectors, use a small radioactive source as a key component for detection of smoke particles. The radionuclide used in ionization smoke detectors is americium-241 (Am-241), which is bonded to a metallic foil and sealed within a small chamber. As long as you use the smoke detector as directed and do not open it, it poses no radiation health risk. Photoelectric detectors use a light and sensor to detect smoke and do not contain radioactive material. Many smoke detectors may use both ionization and photoelectric features to achieve maximum detection.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR:

Unfortunately not all smoke detectors are marked the same. Different indicators may be used to determine if the smoke detector contains radioactive material or not. Observe the labels and markings on the original packaging or on the back of the smoke detector; and refer to the owners manual. If you see any of the following, the device does indeed contain radioactive material:

The radiation symbol in any size or color.

Any of these words: Radioactive - Ionization - Americium - Microcurie - Becquerel or Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Any of these abbreviations: Am-241 - p.Ci - kBq or NRC.

If none of these markings occur, chances are the detector is photoelectric only and does not contain radioactive material.

Lower Valley

Califon, NJ

Our garden is growing ...
come grow with us!

Do you love to garden? Would you like to have a sunny spot with a nice, tall fence and all the tools you need to grow fresh, healthy food for your family during the spring, summer and fall? Would you love to also help feed those less fortunate right here in our community? If your answers were "yes" to these questions, then we've got a place for you.

The Lower Valley Presbyterian Church has a community garden and we would love to share it with you. Our garden has raised beds, including three extra-high beds for those whose bodies may not bend as easily as they used to. Beds are available for rent for $25 each and the garden is open from March through October. We supply soil, compost, water, wheelbarrows, and a shed full of a variety of tools. You provide the seeds, plants and labor.

In addition to the personal garden beds, we also have a number of beds dedicated to growing food for the Open Cupboard Food Pantry. We ask that each garden member spend a few hours, one or two weeks of the season helping with the pantry beds and doing general garden maintenance. We harvest all summer long and into the fall for the Food Pantry. Last year, we donated 300 pounds of onions, potatoes, green beans, peas, tomatoes, cucumbers, lettuce, spinach, beets, watermelons, and more.

The garden also provides a place for community residents to come together to garden and get to know each other.

If you would like more information, please visit our website at www.lowervalley.org/mission/mission.aspx, call Claudia Gilbert at the church office at (908) 832-2933 or email lowervalleypc@embarqmail.com.
